

Stoneridge Software, LLC announces the acquisition of DFC Consultants, Ltd

Stoneridge Software, LLC announces the acquisition of DFC Consultants, Ltd, joining forces of two of the region's most prominent Microsoft Dynamics partners.

The combination of the two firms positions Stoneridge Software as the leading accounting and operations software advisor in the area and creates a full-service resource for the entire Microsoft Dynamics suite of business technologies.

The acquisition expands the consulting practice by 18 individuals and adds more than 200 organizations to the Stoneridge Software client base.

"DFC is a veteran of the industry and a well-respected Microsoft partner that truly cares about the success of their clients," said Eric Newell, CEO of Stoneridge Software. "We welcome the talented team of consultants and look forward to providing for the needs of their customers, and continuing to establish ourselves as the go-to choice for business software consulting."

Company leaders see many synergies between the two firms with similar company values, a client-centric approach, focus on end-user training and prioritization of creating a great work culture.

"In order to best serve our clients in the future we found an alliance and solid partnership in Stoneridge Software," said Carol Rogne, DFC's CEO and President. "We look forward to becoming part of this visionary company and continuing to provide our clients service and support for future growth."

The acquisition is effective as of January 4, 2018.

DFC Consultants will continue business under their current name as a Stoneridge Software subsidiary.
